Anglican Care Advice to Residents, Families & Friends – COVID-19 Residential Update

Dear Residents, families and friends,

I am pleased to be able to provide a further update to you regarding visitation to our residential aged care homes following finalisation of the 'Industry Code for Visiting Residential Aged Care Homes during COVID-19'. The Code was finalised following public consultation with both consumers and aged care providers, to cement a human rights approach to industry practice during the pandemic that both protects and respects aged care residents and their visitors. Attached for your information is a copy of the final version of the Code.

In my correspondence to you dated 1 May, I stated that Anglican Care feels very strongly that the visitor restrictions we have had in place have been in the best interests of our residents. The majority of people in our Anglican Care community were also of this view which they expressed in the survey we recently issued regarding visitation. We are however cognisant of the fact that restrictions in the community are starting to relax, and this, combined with the introduction of the Code, means that we are looking at providing increased compassionate flexibility with our visitation.

Our plan moving forward, is to implement a staged approach to the recommencement of limited visitation to our residential homes, working together with our residents and their visitors to find the right balance between protecting residents from COVID-19 and providing them with vital social connections and support.

The introduction of our 'Connecting Families and Friends' program was a first step in supporting connection for our residents, families and friends, with the ability to book a phone call or video conference. We are now in the final stages of recruiting and training 'Connecting Families and Friends Assistants', who will assist in providing a smooth and safe transition back to visitation to limit the risk of a COVID-19 transmission in any of our homes. This new group of employees will be trained to ensure correct screening and management of visitors is occurring across our service. Following this training, effective from Monday 25th May, we will be expanding the program to include the ability to secure a 45-minute low-risk visit. The 45 minute visit allows time for screening, escorting you to and from your visit and to ensure the area is thoroughly cleaned between visits. Low-risk visit includes but is not limited to a: window or outside visit or a visit in a designated room. This will vary at each service dependant on the layout of the building. Bookings will be via Picktime (please see attached information). The booking system for our low risk visits will be open on Wednesday 20th May at 5pm.

When attending the home for a visit it is legal requirement that all visitors provide proof of influenza vaccination. Appropriate proof of influenza vaccination includes a letter from your GP, pharmacist or a statement from Medicare. If you do not provide appropriate proof of vaccination, we cannot allow you into the building. On your first visit after 1 May 2020, an Anglican Care employee review and copy your proof of vaccination, sight photo identification and you will be issued with a Proof of Influenza Vaccination Card. You will be required to present each time you enter the facility. Limited medical exemptions exist for those who have guillian barre syndrome or anaphylaxis of the influenza vaccination. If this applies to you, please contact the Residential Care Manager for further information.

We initially will have limited visits on designated days in each home. We will continue to monitor the COVID-19 situation. We will be continuously reviewing our visiting hours and will adjust hours as required. It is important that we move forward cautiously as there is still the potential for further outbreaks and clusters across the community.

As has been the case throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, we are cognisant of the stress and anxiety many in our Anglican Care community will be experiencing. It is important that we all work together during these times. To ensure the ongoing health and safety of our residents and employees, please do not attend the facility without prior approval from the Residential Care Manager. This includes attending the grounds or gardens. If you feel it is vital to visit your relative, there continues to be circumstances where compassionate visitation will be allowed outside of our scheduled booking system. Our Residential Care Managers will facilitate a visit with your relative for a variety of reasons on compassionate grounds. Some examples include, but are not limited to;

- If your relative is receiving end of life care
- Family members who have an established pattern of involvement from visitors contributing to their care and support
- If the resident is experiencing negative effects from visitor restrictions

While we are opening up to limited visitors, we ask that all of our families continue to prioritise the use of technology (video or voice calls) to connect with residents. We have had great success in this medium across our homes and this will be continuing despite any changes with visitor restrictions. With increased visitation comes increased risk of transmission of the virus. We are doing all we can to prevent an outbreak of COVID-19 in any of our services and we ask you all to assist us in ensuring the continued health and safety of all of our residents.

Once again, I would like to thank you for your ongoing understanding and cooperation during these difficult and unprecedented times. I am proud of the way that our Anglican Care community has been able to work together and support each other through this challenging period to ensure the health and wellbeing of our residents. Should you have any questions regarding the information in this letter, please do not hesitate to contact your Residential Care Manager.

Kind Regards,

OBJECTIVE

The objective of the Code is to provide an agreed industry approach to ensure aged care residents are provided the opportunity to receive visitors during the COVID-19 pandemic, while minimising the risk of its introduction to, or spread within, a residential care home.

BACKGROUND

We need to ensure that older Australians remain safe and are protected during the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic. Low community transmissions as a result of Government policies, and the effective efforts of the aged care sector, have prevented widespread outbreaks in residential care homes.

This industry code will be adopted during the period of COVID-19, after which usual practices will return. During other infectious outbreaks only a small number of compassionate visits would be permitted, however it is recognised that COVID-19 will require a sustained period of action compared to the usual period for other infectious outbreaks. As the wider community begins to progressively return to pre-COVID-19 activities, it is important that older Australians generally and residential aged care in particular, maintain caution over a sustained period of months. This means that we need to ensure visiting procedures supporting the rights of older people and can be sustained in a way that also maintains the protection of all residents of an aged care home over the longer term.

Human rights recognise that all people living in an aged care home have the right to freedom of movement and association, including the right for residents to see their families. A human rights approach is fundamental to this Code but does not mean the rights of an individual prevail above all else. An individual's rights must be exercised giving consideration to the welfare and wellbeing of others, or to put it yet another way, one individual's rights should never override the rights of another person, they must be balanced with them. Services will continue a person-centred approach in their relationship with residents. The approach and application of the Code will recognise cultural, language and spiritual diversity, cultural or environmental contexts and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and communities.

The Aged Care Quality Standards and the Charter of Aged Care Rights still apply throughout any pandemic (including being informed about care and services in a way they understand such as in their preferred language) and the Aged Care Quality and Safety Commission (ACQSC) has provided guidance resources for the aged care sector including specific guidance about visitations. Additional guidance regarding COVID-19 has been provided by the Australian Health Protection Principal Committee (AHPPC) building on the initial advice by the Communicable Diseases Network Australia (CDNA) which outlines the management of risk of infection including the restriction to the overall number of people in an aged care home.

Residential care homes, residents and visitors need to work together to find the right balance between protecting residents from COVID-19 and providing them with vital social connections and support. Many aged care providers are already compliant with the essence of this Code. They have been effective in communicating with residents and visitors; facilitating new and innovative practices that permit visitations; and increasing staff time to supplement care and support activities that previously were conducted by volunteers, families or friends of residents. However, a number of real cases and complaints have been made regarding some providers implementing rigid and inflexible procedures, above the advice provided by Government or the regulators, which do not facilitate compassionate exemptions. Similarly, there is evidence some visitors have not complied with requested Entry Procedures. Given the vulnerability and frailty of residents and in some cases the potential for residents to naturally pass away during the prolonged pandemic period, it is understandable that families and friends are seeking the maximum safe period of visitation and homes are seeking to minimise the risk of COVID-19 being introduced.

The appropriate place to address concerns under the Code starts with consultation between providers and residents and family members to address their concerns locally. This process may include support for the resident or family, or advocacy on their behalf by the Older Persons Advocacy Network (OPAN); and the provider may seek support from its peak body's member advice line where needed.

For clarity, any person can make a complaint to the Aged Care Quality and Safety Commission at any time and this Code does not change those arrangements.

DEFINITIONS

Additional Ways to Connect –

- Videoconference service such as Skype, Zoom etc
- Telephone calls

Designated Areas – A designated area is an area set aside by the home where visits between residents and visitor/s are to occur during the COVID pandemic. Designated areas are put in place to allow for safe interactions between residents and visitors that minimise the risk of infection and that allow for social distancing requirements.

Longer Visit – Various State Emergency and Health Directives restrict visits to aged care to no longer than 2 hours during the COVID-19 period.

Resident – Is the care recipient under the Aged Care Act. The views and wishes of the older person (resident) about who visits, and how visits are conducted should be sought in the first instance. Where this is not possible, then the views of their substitute/supported decision maker (attorney) should be sought, noting that it is the substitute/supported decision maker's obligation to make the decision in line with the wishes and preferences of and in accordance with how the older person would have made them.

Short Visit – Various State Emergency and Health Directives restrict visits to aged care to no longer than 2 hours during the COVID-19 period. In order to facilitate visits in a manner consistent with infection prevention and control measures many providers have set up dedicated visiting areas and increased cleaning activities following a visit. In order to facilitate as many families and friends as possible to see a resident, booking systems and associated time restrictions have been put in place. In many cases this means in practice that visit bookings are for 30 minutes, which should be the minimum time for visits.

State or Territory Emergency and Health Directives – The following State or Territory Emergency and Health Directives, relevant to aged care which are in force as at 11 May 2020 include:

- Western Australia
- Northern Territory
- South Australia
- Queensland
- New South Wales
- Australian Capital Territory
- Victoria
- Tasmania

Visitor/s – Visitors include any person a resident chooses to see including their family, family of choice, friends, religious or spiritual advisors. It is not up to the aged care home or its staff to determine who is or is not eligible to be a visitor. The presence of a Guardianship order, Power of Attorney or involvement of the Next of Kin does not automatically preclude other people from visiting, though may be informative when prioritising who to let visit when multiple people are requesting visits for the same resident.

However, medical and allied health staff, Community Visitors Scheme volunteers, aged care advocates, legal representatives, or carers privately contracted by the resident or their family carers are not visitors for the purpose of this Code. They are considered workers (including volunteers) under the various State Emergency and Health Directives. Such workers will be required to comply with an aged care homes' practices including their infection prevention and control measures.

Visit/s – Visits may occur in a range of ways including in a resident's room, designated internal areas, gardens or other designated areas. Visits may be up to 2 hours in duration and should be at least 30 minutes. Offering the maximum visiting time, or agreeing to longer periods, may be given priority for someone with dementia, or for the situations covered by Principle 7 of this Code. Visits will be conducted in accordance with Infection Prevention and Control measures, including Social Distancing (see CDNA, p10).

- In-Room Visit – Occur in the resident's room and may require additional PPE to be worn. In-room visits may not be appropriate when living in shared rooms and in situations covered under Principle 7A of the Code alternative locations should be provided.
- In-Person Visit – Occurs in a dedicated area or outside, not behind a protection screen.

Where in-room or in-person visits cannot occur, and the visit is meaningful for residents (e.g. people living with dementia or sensory loss), a window visit may need to be offered. Such visits may occur in a dedicated space behind a protective screen, via a balcony, through a gate or behind a window. Additional ways to connect may be offered as an alternative to minimise the risk of COVID-19 spread.

PRINCIPLES

1. Providers will continue to facilitate visits between residents and visitors consistent with the Charter of Aged Care Rights and state/territory COVID-19 related directives. Visitors include a resident's family, families of choice and friends.
2. Visits may occur in a variety of ways and may be supplemented with additional ways to connect a resident and their visitors, including utilising technology, window visits, courtyard, balconies. Where window visits or additional ways to connect are not effective for the resident (e.g. people living with dementia or sensory loss) the home will explore alternate approaches. The range of visits made available will be negotiated between residents their visitors and staff of the homes. Residents may choose to have visits in a variety of these forms allowing them greater opportunities to remain in contact with families and friends.
3. Homes may regulate the overall number of visitors in order to minimise the risk of the introduction of COVID-19 into a residential care home and may be required to replace in-person visits or in-room visits with window visits or additional ways to connect in response to any COVID-19 outbreak in the area in which the aged care home operates (except in circumstances covered by Principle 7A of the Code). Regular and responsive communication between families and the home will increase in circumstances where there are increased visitor restrictions.
4. Wishes and preferences of residents will be at the centre of all decision making in relation to who visits them, and their choices will be sought and respected, unless the visitor is prohibited under state/territory directives. Visits between residents and their visitors are to occur in a manner consistent with infection prevention and control guidelines including provisions relating to the use of designated areas for visits and the use of social distancing practices.
5. Existing legislation and regulation continue to apply during COVID-19 including The Aged Care Act and its related Principles, the Aged Care Quality Standards, the Carers Recognition Act 2010 and Charter of Aged Care Rights. Providers will continue to ensure person centred approaches to care including that approaches to the use of restraints are used in accordance with the Quality Care Principles. The Code recognises that aged care homes must comply with the requirements of the State or Territory

Emergency and Health Directives which may take precedence over the Code. Included within these Directives is a legal requirement that all visitors must provide proof of immunisation for the 2020 influenza season, unless they provide evidence of a medical exemption from their treating medical practitioner.

6. No visitor should attend an aged care home if they are unwell or displaying any cold/flu, respiratory or COVID-19 related symptoms. (see here for COVID-19 symptoms). Visitors must comply with the home's infection prevention and control measures. At a minimum, the entry requirements include being required to respond honestly to screening questions about COVID-19 risk factors, demonstrate an up to date flu vaccination; and complying with visitor requirements which include mandatory hand hygiene, being temperature checked upon arrival, wearing Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) if required, attending to social distancing requirements and remaining in a resident's room or designated visiting areas.
7. There are certain circumstances which may require longer visits. These situations are:
  - a. Residents who are dying should be allowed in-room visits from loved ones on a regular basis. The number of visitors, length, frequency, and nature of the visits should reflect what is needed for the person to die with dignity and comfort, taking into account their physical, emotional, social and spiritual support needs. Erring on the side of compassion is important, given the difficulty in predicting when a person is going to die.
  - b. Residents who have a clearly established and regular pattern of involvement from visitors contributing to their care and support (this could be daily or a number of times per week and, for example assisting a resident with their meals or with essential behaviour support such as for people living with dementia) must continue to have these visits facilitated. The length, frequency, and nature of the visits should reflect what is needed for the person to be supported appropriately, may be an in-room visit / in-person visit and should be consistent with established practices and routines as evidenced, for example, through care planning and care documentation.
  - c. Visits from family, families of choice and friends who travel extensive distances to visit the resident. A prior agreement between the visitor and the home will be required to determine if an extended-duration visit is able to be accommodated.
8. All other visitors may be only able to visit for a shorter visit and may be subject to additional procedures such as booking systems to manage total number of visits, and visits occurring only in designated areas and at agreed to times. A flexible and compassionate approach to visiting times should be utilised. Residents, visitors and the home will work together to identify suitable visiting times and frequency, taking into account the constraints facing all parties, including those visitors who have work related restrictions.
9. Residents have the right to continue to receive letters, parcels including gifts, non-perishable food and communication devices to the home. Perishable foods delivered are to meet food handling/safety guidelines. Delivery of these parcels may be subject to the home's appropriate infection prevention and control measures, proportionately applied based on the current prevalence of COVID-19 in the local community. The home may require these deliveries to be made known to the home's staff so that infection prevention and control measures can be applied prior to delivery to the resident. This right continues when potential, suspected or confirmed cases of COVID-19 occur within a home, noting the requirement for screening and adjustment in delivery mechanisms.
10. Where there is a suspected or actual outbreak of COVID-19, or a suspected/known case of COVID-19 within a home, increased visitor restrictions will be implemented which may include exclusion of visitors. This should be implemented in a transparent manner with open and clear communication to residents and relevant family members. During such periods the home will provide alternate communication approaches, including assistance to use these, to assist residents to remain in touch with their loved ones.

11. In the absence of an active outbreak, residents can continue to use public spaces within the home, including outdoor spaces using social distancing measures as required by COVID guidelines and within the constraints imposed by the layout of each home.
12. Residents right to access medical and related services (e.g. repair of hearing aids or glasses, urgent dental care, mental health support) will be maintained. Where a resident attends a medical or health service offsite reasonable, proportionate and a risk based-approach to infection prevention and control measures will be followed (e.g. wearing of PPE while offsite, screening on return, and assessment of level of likely interaction with possible suspected cases of COVID-19). The current prevalence of COVID-19 in the local community and COVID-19 cluster location are to be considered when determining proportionate infection prevention and control measures during and post attendance at an external medical or health service. Support to access medical and related services may include the use of technology such as telehealth, where deemed medically appropriate.
13. Providers will vary their own response to COVID-19 as risks change within their local community.
